

Manx National Heritage

The Manx Museum
Kingswood Grove
Douglas, Isle of Man IM1 3LY
Isle of Man

Phone: 01624 648000
Fax: 01624 648001

Why We Need Your SupportManx National Heritage is incredible! We look after some of the Isle of Man's most special places, spaces and collections, including historic buildings, landscapes, archives and the Island's national museum of collections, making these available to a worldwide audience.We want to continue to ensure the Isle of Man remains a special place for people and that our heritage and nature is celebrated by this generation and future generations to come.Money raised through donations enables us to continue to celebrate the heritage of the Isle of Man.Donations help to secure the future of our past.Money raised will be used to...HELP- develop and care for our collectionsSUPPORT- keeping traditional skills alive through training for the people of the islandIMPROVE- facilities and access to the island's heritageFUND- amazing new projects that benefit the whole of the Isle of Man.#####

#####Race for us, bake for us, paint your face for us! Find out how YOU can fundraise for MNH by contacting our Fundraising Office on 01624 648013 or emailing fundraising@mnh.im#####

#####Who we are
The Manx Museum and National Trust was originally set up in the 19th century by the Isle of Man's Parliament, Tynwald, to look after the Islands archaeological sites. The organisation is supported by the Isle of Man Government and Trustees are appointed by Tynwald. On a day to day basis the Trust operates at "arms length" but has close relationships with Government Departments, in particularly with the Department of Enterprise. The Trust also has charitable status and works closely with other voluntary sector bodies such as the Manx Wildlife Trust. There are up to 11 Trustees who serve five year terms. These are unpaid public appointments. Trustees set the overall direction of the organisation and are accountable to the Manx Community for its performance and effectiveness. As Charity Trustees they also manage donations and bequests to the organisation. The day to day operations of the Trust are carried out by a team of professional staff. Our team are public servants, employed by the Isle of Man Government, with some appointments funded by our Friends and charitable Trust. We also benefit from economies of scale through access to Government systems and contracts such as insurance, computing and telecommunications. Increasingly the Trust also benefits from the support of a large team of volunteers and supporters. Our Executive Team

Mr Edmund Southworth, Director

Mrs Gaynor Haxby, Head of Public Services

Mr Gary Lark, Head of Corporate Services

Miss Kirsty Neate, Head of Professional Services

Mr Steve Blackford, Head of Properties Our Trustees

Mr Jonathan Hall, Chairman

Mr Malcolm Kelly, Vice-Chairman

Mr Rob Callister MHK, Trustee

Mrs Joan Conway, Trustee

Mr Phil Gawne, Trustee

Dr Catriona Mackie, Trustee

Mr Dave Martin, Trustee

Mr Mark Shimmin, Trustee

Mrs Jennie Thompson, Trustee

Mr John Watt, Trustee

Ms Eva Wisemark, Trustee We are...

A designated body of the Isle of Man Government linked via the Department of Economic Development

Supported by the Isle of Man Government who provide funding for our core activities and some of our capital projects

A Charitable Trust, Manx registered charity no 603 existing by statute as the Manx

Museum & National Trust.

Governed by a Board of Trustees who contribute to our work through their expertise and experience.

The National Museum Service

The National Monuments Service

The National Trust

The National Library & Archive

The National Art Gallery

Farmer, landowner, operator of Tourist attractions, retailer, publisher, events promoter, teacher, advisor, conservator

What we do
Manx National Heritage look after some of the Isle of Man's most special places, spaces and collections, including historic buildings, landscapes, archives and the Island's national museum collections, including art, social history, archaeology, natural history, making these available to a worldwide audience. Our professional team also advise on developments and changes in our historic environment and natural landscape, helping ensure the Isle of Man remains a special place for people, heritage and nature for generations to come.

Our Mission
To lead the Island's community in recognising, understanding, valuing and promoting its cultural heritage and identity to a world-wide audience.

Act as guardian of the Island's unique heritage and cultural assets

Strengthen the Manx identity and community by giving opportunities for enjoyment, learning and development

Contribute to the national economy and infrastructure by making the Isle of Man a better place in which to live, work and visit.

Research and communicate the significance of Manx heritage and culture

Manage ourselves effectively, efficiently and accountably

Our outcomes:
A sense of time, place and identity for Manx people

Safe and welcoming physical environments at our sites

Creative engagement and inspirational experiences

Learning and personal development opportunities

Positive economic impact and a creative economy

Accessible and safeguarded resources for the understanding of Manx

Our Values
Welcoming

Inspiring

Innovative

Manx

Visit Website

Contact Me

Email Friend